COURT SMILES AND FINES NEAR BEER FOR PROXIMITY

Too Near Beer and Too Near Park to Suit Judge Lightfoot's Taste.

Acts as Own Expert Witness and is Convinced.

LOUIS CAPORAL GIVEN $100

Dispensers of "near beer" get little comfort when arraigned before the county court. Judge Lightfoot this morning after delivering a scathing denunciation of such traffic, assessed a fine of $100 against Louis Caporal, proprietor of a stand near Wallace park, for selling intoxicating liquors. The amount of the fine was the largest permissible under the statute.

The finding of Caporal followed a "court of tasting," when Judge Lightfoot, witnesses and attorneys opened bottles of different concoctions that had been purchased from Caporal's place. Judge Lightfoot acted as master of ceremonies at the "tasting" and opened several bottles, which he set aside, pronouncing them non-intoxicating and "would not harm an infant." Finally two bottles were resurrected from the ice cooler, where they had been placed by order of the court to cool preparatory to the tasting process. At the first quaff from the black bottle a broad smile came over the countenance of the judge. "That's beer—good beer, too," he said. Captain Joe Wood was invited to "take one," which he did, and testified that he bought similar tasting stuff from Caporal's stand. Caporal refused to testify in his own behalf and a fine of $100 was assessed.

In addition to the fine a motion was made by County Attorney Barkley to take as forfeited the bond of George Smith, clerk at the drink stand. Caporal is surety on the bond and unless Smith is returned to the custody of the court the bond of $200 must be paid. Smith was at the court house just before the cases were called, but it is said he ran away and efforts of deputy sheriffs to apprehend him were without success.

The prosecutions against Caporal and his clerk were brought by William Malone, manager of the park, and representing the traction company and by merchants and citizens who live adjacent to the park. Captain Joe Wood was employed to secure evidence, which he did by drinking at the stand and buying bottles to be used as exhibits at the trial. A number of citizens and park employees were present at the trial and appeared interested in the proceedings.

OAK GROVE ADDITION

Work was begun this morning by Robert Richardson, assistant city engineer, of laying out the addition to Oak Grove cemetery. The addition has been divided into lots and will be presented to the cemetery committee of the general council for approval.

WEDS DAUGHTER OF MAN WHO WAS KILLED

Mayfield, Ky., July 21.—The termination of the trouble at the church near Backusburg, Calloway county between Lee Lawrence and Andy Bannister, has resulted in the marriage of Lee Lawrence and Mrs. Sarah Fels, the daughter of the man who was killed. The marriage took place Sunday at the home of Monroe Edwards, near Backusburg. This is the sequel to the trouble brought about by the courtship of these young people.

ALDERMAN MILLER DECLARES WIFE OF PHILLIP STEPHON GAVE HIM CHECK FOR $100

Mayor and City Solicitor Inquiring Into Affair to Ascertain if Criminal Intent Existed.

A warrant will be issued by Police Judge Cross for the arrest of Mrs. Phillip Stephon for attempted bribery. The charge rests on alleged violation of section 3207 of the revised statutes, forbidding the offer of any sort of compensation to a member of the general council to use his official influence. The penalty is a fine or imprisonment from one to five years.

Mayor Smith, City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., and Police Judge Cross instituted a court of inquiry this afternoon to determine whether there was anything criminal in the alleged proffer of a check for $100 by Mrs. Phillip Stephon to Alderman W. T. Miller, when the latter agreed to interest other members of the general council in granting her husband a saloon license at Ninth street and Kentucky avenue. City Attorney A. Y. Martin and County Attorney Alben Barkley were present.

Mrs. Stephon has employed Wheeler, Hughes & Berry to represent her and declines to talk about the affair. Alderman Miller said he thinks that since the neighborhood has been redeemed there is no danger of a disorderly resort being conducted. He had no intention of prosecuting the case and consulted Mr. E. H. Puryear, and then Mayor Smith and Solicitor Campbell about the best way of returning the check to preserve himself from any future reflections. Solicitor Campbell insisted on the prosecution.

Serious consequences may rest on the motive behind the action of Mrs. Stephon, wife of Phillip Stephon, the saloonkeeper, of 204 North Ninth street, in leaving a check for $100 on Alderman W. T. Miller's desk in his piano store, 520 Broadway on Saturday. Alderman Miller found the check under a blotter on his desk after a conference with Mrs. Stephon in which she asked him to use his influence to have her husband's saloon license granted, in spite of the adverse decision of the license committee. His impression was that she expected the check to pay him for his work in seeing the other members of the general council, and not in payment of his vote, which he had previously promised.

Laughter at the absurdity of any person attempting to bribe Alderman Miller broke from the members of the council board last night when under oath he related the incident. But the seriousness of the offense caused them to become deeply concerned that any city official should be even approached in such a manner, and the remarks of City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., heightened their resentment. They following his advice, to refer the case to the mayor and city solicitor, to probe it to the bottom, to punish any and all persons proven guilty of attempted bribery, which is a penitentiary offense.

Alderman Miller made a startling statement at the close of the regular meeting of the councilmen last night. He did so on advice of the city solicitor, who thought that official recognition of the incident should be taken by the general council. Alderman Miller had been advised to return the check to Mrs. Stephon, accompanied by the mayor as a witness, but was urged to the course he followed. After being sworn by City Clerk Maurice McIntyre, Alderman Miller said:

"Mr. President: Some days ago I was visited by Mrs. Stephon, who asked me to use my influence to have a saloon license granted to her husband, Phillip Stephon, at Ninth and Kentucky avenue, and as I thought his house was in the business district, I indicated to her that I would do so. On Saturday, I went into my store and was told by a clerk that a woman had been in to see me, who seemed much annoyed about something, and while I was in the store, a woman entered, whom I recognized as Mrs. Stephon. She again brought up the question of the license and asked me to see the other members of the general council to get them to act favorably on the license. I agreed to this and she offered me a check, which I refused. She insisted and I plainly told her I could take no money for my services. Then she desisted and I took the check in my hand to ascertain the amount, so I could be sure of the nature of the offense. Then she refused to take it back until I insisted.

On my desk at which she sat is a large blotter and after she left, this check was found by me under one edge of it. I did not know what to do about it until Mr. Campbell, the city solicitor, advised me on this course. I leave the matter in your hands."

Depositing the check with the city clerk, Alderman Miller retired. The check is dated July 18, drawn on the Citizens Savings bank for $100, payable to bearer and signed by Maggie Stephon. The signature is in ink but the rest of the check was written in a typewriter. It will be held as evidence. City Solicitor Campbell said:

"Gentlemen of the Council: This appears to be an attempt to unlawfully influence a city official, which is a most heinous offense and the first in my knowledge of city affairs. I think it should be dealt with to the full extent of the law. I would recommend that you refer it to the proper officials for an immediate investigation and, if sufficient grounds are developed, the guilty person, or persons, should be prosecuted. I promise that if it falls to my lot to handle the case no compromise will be made and no effort will be spared to give an object lesson on the enormity of such an offense."

Alderman Miller's statement came after the council had refused to grant a license to Stephon. Stephon had been in the councilman's chamber earlier in the evening, but had left when the bribery incident came up. Alderman Miller stated that he had seen only two or three members of the council about the license when the check was left on his desk. Of course, after he ceased to advocate the granting of the license, Stephon's license was adversely reported by the license committee in its hearing last week and the council concurred in its report, with only Councilman Bowers voting to grant the license.

F. E. LACK PURCHASES PLANT OF MERGENTHALER-HORTON BASKET CO.

It is Reported That New Industry Will Occupy Building if Sale is Confirmed.

The Mergenthaler-Horton Basket plant was sold for the third time by Special Master Hummel. As upon the occasion of the last previous sale, Mr. F. E. Lack was the successful bidder, securing the property for $32,050, which is $2,025 less than he bid for it when it was sold June 1. The report of the sale by Special Master Hummel will be submitted to Judge Lorton, at Huntington, Tenn., and probably the sale will be confirmed without opposition.

This is to be hoped for, as it is reliably intimated that a new and considerable industry will occupy the plant in the near future should no further obstacles intervene. Mr. Lack is a man who does things, being the head of the Lack Singletree company, the Lack Malabar iron company and largely interested in the Columbia Manufacturing company.

Y. M. C. A. RUNNERS.

Chicago, July 21.—Y. M. C. A. athletes, who carried a message from Mayor McClellan, of New York, to Mayor Russe arrived this morning. They started Wednesday running in short relays. They race took 119 hours and 36 minutes.

UNKNOWN PARTIES FIRE ON TOWBOAT HARVESTER OF WEST KENTUCKY FLEET AND BLOW UP BARGE AT CASEYVILLE, KY.

SHOOT ENGINEER THROUGH STOMACH AND WATCHMAN

Believed That Miners, Who Have Been Fighting Open Shop, Are Responsible For The Outrage Last Night.

CASEYVILLE CASUALTIES.

Engineer John Goodall, of Harvester, shot in stomach. Night watchman of Harvester, shot on foot. Coal barge sunk with dynamite. Hundreds of shots fired by unknown parties at Caseyville.

Dynamite was used by a mob at Caseyville last night to blow up towboats and barges belonging to the West Kentucky Coal company, and hundreds of bullets were fired into the Fannie Wallace and Harvester, wounding John Goodall, engineer on the Harvester, in the stomach and shooting the night watchman through the foot.

Particulars of the outrage were received by telephone this morning and though it is not definitely known who did the dynamiting and shooting, it is supposed to be the work of miners incited by agitators.

Without warning to the men on the boats, a loaded barge was blown up by dynamite and volley after volley of shots were fired into the towboats. On the Harvester were Engineer John Goodall and a night watchman, both of whom were struck by bullets. Goodall's wound in the stomach was thought fatal last night, but this morning he is better and will be brought to the Riverside hospital here tonight. Company employees went on the boat after the shooting last night and carried Goodall to the company's club house in Sturgis, where his wound was dressed.

On the Fannie Wallace, the engineer was pumping when the attack was made, and though numerous bullet holes show the danger he was in, no bullet struck him. The watchman on the Harvester was wounded slightly in the foot, but will not be brought here to the hospital. Dynamite charges damaged the Fannie Wallace but did not reach the big Harvester.

One loaded barge was sunk by the dynamite, entailing a loss of $2,500 for the barge and $1,400 for the coal. A fleet of loaded barges had been accumulated for the Harvester to take south on the first rise in the river and the boats and barges were lying together. Captain F. R. Farnsley, of 900 Tennessee street, left his boat, the Harvester, night before last, to come to Paducah, and so missed being wounded or possibly killed.

John Goodall, the wounded engineer, lives in Gallipolis, O., having become a member of the Harvester's crew when that boat ran from Pittsburg to southern points with coal. He was asleep when the outrage began and was shot before he had time to dress completely. The men on the boats could not tell who their assailants were, but all clues point to disgruntled miners.

Has Joined the Navy.

John Welch, of 303 Madison street, son of Mrs. Eliza Welch, has joined the navy and has been stationed at Newport, Va., for training. Mr. Welch went to Indianapolis to work, but a letter was received yesterday stating that he had enlisted in the navy.

OFFER THOUSAND FOR EVIDENCE IN GOULD'S DIVORCE

New York, July 21.—There is a great sensation on account of the arrest of Mrs. Ben Teal, Harry S. Mousley, a private detective, and Julie Flowing, a seamstress, Mabel McCausland charges they promised her a thousand dollars to make a statement compromising Frank Gould in his wife's suit for divorce. The defendants claim the whole affair was a mistake.

Notes of National Politics.

Has Hopes for Bryan. Hot Springs, Va., July 21.—Melville E. Ingalls, former president of the Big Four railroad, and a strong Bryan supporter, in an interview says that whether Bryan or Taft is elected the result in a month will be practically the same. Although Bryan is called the radical, his temperament is such that if elected he will become a conservative statesman.

Fight in the West. Chicago, July 21.—The Republican congressional committee will establish its principal headquarters here. This means the congressional fight will be waged in the west. A successor to James S. Sherman as chairman will be elected soon.

Fighting Chance in Oklahoma. Washington, July 21.—George B. Stone, president of the chamber of commerce of Oklahoma City, and one of the leading Democrats of the state, said here today that he thought there was some doubt about Bryan carrying the state. "Oklahoma is normally Democratic," he said, "but it is going to be hard work to carry it for Bryan, especially since Congressman Flynn, one of the most popular men in the state, has announced that he would be a candidate for the senate in case the state went republican."

Want Hearst to Head Party. New York, July 21.—A number of William R. Hearst's friends in New York City today declared Mr. Hearst ought to be the candidate of the independence party for president, and said no other man in the movement could hold the vote of the organization.

MOSAIC TEMPLARS GET DOWN TO WORK THIS AFTERNOON

The public program given last night at the Washington Street Baptist church to welcome the colored delegates, who are attending the national order of Mosaics of America, was interesting and instructive. It was a red letter night with Mosaics in the city of Paducah. Never before has the colored people of this section witnessed such a helpful and inspiring address as the ones delivered by Hon. A. W. Barkley, John McConico and a number of others. It was a feast of oratory interspersed with solos and anthems by the augmented choir. Dr. C. A. Isbell acted as master of ceremonies. Attorney J. W. Eggester introduced Mr. Barkley. The country attorney was given a splendid ovation and throughout his address he was given careful attention and was frequently interrupted with applause.

He said "he was glad to welcome to the city of Paducah such a fine set of representative colored people. That it was refreshing to see such a large number of honest, intelligent and law-abiding colored people assembled for the purpose of organization and elevation of the race of which you are a member. There have always been organizations among all races for the purpose of perpetuating brotherly love and the spread of humanity." At this point the speaker discussed the wisdom of God in having races and clans among his people, and yet said they are for the most part marching forward making for their cardinal principles progress and success.

"Through the light of religion, freedom and intelligence, all men become equal before the law and this was what made America great. Every man has a duty to perform and no man should stay the hand of a race in the performance of that duty." He closed saying that he did not know about the order, but that he believed it was a good one.

RESIDENTS MUST CONNECT UP WITH DISTRICT NO. 1

City health officer, Dr. H. P. Sights, issued a notice this morning that all residents in sewer district No. 1, who have never connected with the sewer, must do so within ten days, or the sanitary inspectors will begin to issue warrants for the delinquents. When the time limit has expired the inspectors will note every residence where operations to install sewer connections have not been begun, and the same vigorous course will be followed in this campaign for health as in the weed-cutting order. It is known that all residents cannot make connections within ten days, but it is expected that they can have the work under way or give substantial proof of their intentions to comply with the notice. Although sewer No. 1 has been laid for many years, there are still many residents who have never connected, and it is to these that the notice applies.

Judge Breathitt cited cases, where the law had held in Minnesota and in other states, as the courts have held that the barbers' business involves public health and they are subject to police regulation. While on the board Mr. Frakes has had difficulty in getting some barbers to be examined, but peace is looked for now. The law has never been carried into the courts for a test case.

Copies Are Submitted to Secretary of State Root and to Roosevelt.

Western Republicans Say they Will Win

DELEGATIONS VISITING TAFT

Hot Springs, Va., July 21.—Taft has completed his acceptance speech and copies were sent to Roosevelt and Secretary of State Root for approval. Taft today received a delegation of Virginia leaders. Plans are arranged to run excursions of voters to Hot Springs to greet the candidate. The Virginians promised that 10,000 will attend.

Westers Confident. Colorado Springs, July 21.—A conference of western Republicans with Chairman Hitchcock was held on Pike's Peak. Delegates are enthusiastic and declare they will carry every western state, but Texas and Oklahoma.

Take Depositions.

Depositions will be taken here on August 3 in the case in federal court of Langhaugh & Morton vs. C. S. Knight, in which some zinc lands in Livingston county are the bone of contention. The plaintiff and defendant are Ohio and Indiana capitalists but a large number of Livingston county citizens are interested. C. C. Grassham and Wheeler, Hughes & Berry represent the plaintiffs and Crice & Ross represent the defendant.

Asking for a Meeting.

C. M. Hanna, of Shelbyville, who, as representative of State Commissioner Rankin, is to be here Friday and Saturday to conduct the Farmers' County institute, which sessions are to be held forenoon and evening at the Casino, in Wallace park, is desirous of meeting all the wage earners at the Knights of Labor hall, Saturday night, to talk over the tobacco societies question and prison labor in opposition to free labor. He has Mr. George P. Rogers, of Smithland, an institute lecturer, in the city now to solicit the meeting named and to urge a large attendance of members. This announcement is made at the request of Mr. Rogers.

London, July 21.—Melvin Sheppard, of New York, won the final 800 meters race in the Olympic games.

STEVENSON'S BOOM

Bloomington, Ill., July 21.—Former Vice-President Stevenson has opened headquarters to further his boom for the Democratic nomination for governor.

ROJESTVENSKY?

Berlin, July 21.—Dispatches from Bad Naugheim announce that Admiral Rojestvensky is not dead. The report started in the death of another man of the same name. In view of the turn of affairs the situation is regarded as amusing, because of the praises bestowed on Rojestvensky.

FUGITIVE CAUGHT

Charged with burglary and larceny, John Fisher, colored, was arrested this morning by Detectives Moore and Baker as a fugitive from justice from St. Louis. Little is known of the charge by the Paducah police department, but Fisher was picked up by the detectives.

Bryan Interested in Foraker's Attitude in Ohio, According to Lincoln Report.

Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., July 21.— According to Democratic leaders who have been to Fairview and conferred with Mr. Bryan, the ability of the Democratic party to secure the negro vote in Ohio will depend largely on the attitude of Senator Foraker. So long as he remains outside the Republican breastworks, at least regards Judge Taft, the delegates feel assured of large negro support in that state.
Should, however, Senator Foraker become reconciled and lend his support to Taft, it is conceded that there is little probability of enrolling the sufficient number of negro voters in the cause of Democracy to materially affect the result.

Former Attorney General Frank S.
Monnett, of Columbus, and E. H.
Moore, of Youngstown, who were chairman of the last Democratic state convention in Ohio, are today speeding home, after a conference with Mr.
Bryan last night, with instructions to size up the situation and take every advantage of the so-called Foraker-Taft feud.

Little Hope in Illinois.
The first feeling of hopefulness with regard to Illinois is not gaining ground and while that state will be carefully looked after, it has been practically determined that the main efforts in the middle west will be directed toward Indiana and Ohio, where the Democratic leaders are counting on wresting the majority vote from the Republican column. A novel method for ascertaining the sentiment of the country toward the two candidates is being adopted by a number of Democrats traveling on the transcontinental trains through Lincoln. For the past several days visitors to Fairview have kept Mr. Bryan informed of the result of polls made by them of passengers aboard the trains. It is said that the figures presented were highly gratifying to Mr.

Bryan.

One thing is definitely settled and that is that the chairmanship of the national committee will not go to a southern man because of the attitude of the southerners toward the negro.
Although Mr. Bryan thinks highly of Mr. Ollie James, of Kentucky, and his name was prominently considered for the place, the position taken by Mr.
James some time ago in favoring the disfranchisement of the negro made his appointment out of the question.

TOBACCO TRADE FOREIGN LANDS

America Supplies by Far the Greater Part of Amount Used.

France Cultivating Some of the Weed.
But It Is Not a Formidable Competitor of United States.

REPORTED AT WASHINGTON.

Washington, July 21.—The foreign tobacco trade is the subject of a symposium recently published by the United States bureau of manufacturers, to which a number of American consular officers contributed.

Consul General Frank K. Mowrer reports from Copenhagen that only a retail tobacco business is carried on in Denmark, practically all tobacco being imported, and there being no interval revenue tax imposed upon the tobacco trade. Only about 100,000 pounds of tobacco is grown in Denmark, and it does not compare with tobacco imported from America. Kentucky tobacco is used in Denmark for chewing, while Virginia tobacco is a favorite for short-pipe smoking. American tobacco is considered too strong for cigars in Denmark, and they are made from Brazilian and Java tobacco.
The consumption of cigarettes in Denmark has increased from ten millions to one hundred millions annually during the past decade.

Denmark Importations.
American tobacco is imported into Denmark from Bremen, Hamburg and Amsterdam, where dealers pay cash for the same, but sell it to Danish merchants on credit. Nearly 700,000 pounds of American tobacco was imported by Denmark in 1906, the total from Holland being much larger, while the total from all countries was over 13,000,000 pounds.

Consul General Robert J. Wynne writes from London that, except in Ireland, no tobacco is grown in the United Kingdom. In Ireland the business is in an experimental stage, only about seventy-seven acres of the crop being grown. In order to encourage the industry, the government allows a rebate of the internal revenue tax on tobacco to its growers.

Great Britain imports nearly all of her tobacco from this country, the total amount of American tobacco of various kinds sent to England last year being 88,500,000 pounds, as against 13,500,000 pounds from all other countries.

Conditions in France.
The tobacco business in France is a government monopoly. Consul General Frank H. Mason, of Paris, reports from which the government derived a revenue in 1906 amounting to over $93,000,000. The government imports certain grades of tobacco free of duty, but private importations have to pay high tariffs. Over half of the government's importation of leaf tobacco and stems in 1906 came from the United States, the total being something over 68,000,000 pounds, of which the United States furnished 34,000,000 pounds, and the Philippine islands 1,281,000 pounds. In addition to these kinds of tobacco, 146,- 000 pounds of cigars were imported into France from the United States and the Philippines. Algeria and several European countries contributed the bulk of the balance of French tobacco imports.

In 1906 France exported 19,061,- 000 pounds of tobacco, valued at $4,- 223,246, practically none of it to the United States.

Tobacco is cultivated in France under strict government regulation. Everybody is allowed to grow two tobacco plants for decorative purposes. If he wishes to grow more than that he must secure a license and declare how many plants he intends to cultivate.
When his crop is matured he must sell to the government at the government's price. Under these circumstances, it is not surprising that the French tobacco crop is declining, having amounted to only 26,000,000 pounds in 1906, as compared with an average of 49,000,000 pounds of the preceding ten years. Consul General Mason naively remarks that "there is nothing in the record of recent years to indicate that the supply of home-grown French tobacco will, either in respect to quantity or quality, become more formidable than it has been hitherto as a competitor with the better grades of tobacco from the United States." At the end of his interesting report Consul General Mason submits the following interesting conclusions:

Increase Shown.
"First, that the importation of raw tobacco leaf and stems into France increased from 55,720,614 pounds in 1896 to 68,712,817 pounds in 1906.

"Second, that the United States supplied in 1896 28,524,839 pounds, or 51.1 per cent. of the whole, while in the year 1906 it supplied $4,167,- total quantity imported.

"Third, that three countries which supplied part of the imports of 1896, viz., Italy, British India and Brazil, fell wholly out of the competition in 1906, and their places were taken by three other countries, viz.: Haiti, the Dominican Republic and Argentina.
This shows that the three last named countries are endeavoring to gain a foothold for their leaf tobacco in the French market.

"Fourth, it is also shown that the competition of native French tobacco is not increasing, the crop of 1906—the last year fully reported—being the smallest gathered in any season during the past ten years.

"Thus far, therefore, it cannot be said that the tobacco of any other country is being substituted to any serious extent in France for the American product, but this would naturally ensue if any important and permanent advance in the price of American tobacco should be made and maintained."

In the Far East.

The United States is credited with furnishing the largest percentage of the foreign tobacco consumed in Korea, according to Consul General Thomas Sammons, in a report from Seoul. In 1907 importations of tobacco, mostly cigarettes, into Korea were worth $545,000. It is estimated that the 20,000,000 people in Korea consume 840,000,000 cigarettes annually, of which Japan furnishes 43,- 000,000 monthly. The balance are composed largely of Virginia leaf tobacco and are manufactured mostly at Shanghai, and in this country and England. The lump retail valuation of the Korean cigarette trade is placed at $840,000. Korean pipe smokers appear to be in the majority, however.

The Japanese tobacco monopoly is actively pushing its trade in Korea, the consul general writes, and a sharp struggle is on between the Oriental and Occidental to control the Korean tobacco trade. With over 40 per cent of the Korean cigarette trade and fully 50 per cent of the entire Manchurian import tobacco trade controlled by American and British concerns, the latter are exerting every effort to increase their business.
Many salesmen are in the field, cigarettes are being distributed free, advertisements posted, printing plants operated. The Japanese are selling in Korea chiefly hand-made cigarettes with paper mouthpieces. If a similar product can be made by machinery, Consul Sammons writes, the American trade in Korea will grow rapidly.
This outcome is promised for the immediate future, with the result that, before long, it is predicted, American and British dealers will control over half the Korean cigarette trade.

Difficulties have been encountered by the Americans arising from fraud practiced by the Japanese with trademarks. Remedial measures have been taken by the Americans through international channels and otherwise.
Consul D. R. Birch, of Genoa, writes that experiments in tobacco culture are being carried on in Northeastern Italy with considerable success. Last year forty-two acres were under cultivation. A new company has been formed to carry on the experiments, and it will cultivate 300 acres of land. It is believed that the soil of Italy is capable of producing good tobacco.

Pleads That Marshall County Has Not Been Represented for Many Years.

Judge E. Barry, editor of the Benton Tribune, was here this morning, en route home from a trip through Ballard and Carlisle counties, in the interest of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for state senator.
Judge Barry received many assurances of support from prominent members of the party in the counties visited and was enthusiastic over his prospects of success. Judge Barry makes the advantage of the plea that Marshall county has not been represented in the senate for 35 years.

CHICAGO LADIES ORCHESTRA TODAY

Feature of Chautauqua Program at Night.

Excursions on River to Attend This Entertainment—Miss Smith's Reading.

THE PROGRAM FOR TOMORROW.

The engagement of the Chicago Ladies orchestra for this evening at the Chautauqua assembly has been anticipated with no small degree of pleasure by music lovers, and it is expected a large audience will be present. A special excursion from Metropolis this evening has been arranged, leaving there at 7 o'clock and returning from Paducah after the concert. This concert tonight is a rare musical treat and should be liberally patronized.

As a prelude to the concert, Miss Elma B. Smith will give several numbers. Those who heard Miss Smith yesterday afternoon and evening have given out the word that she is not only an entertainer of pronounced ability but is one of the most charming little persons on the platform. Her work is of the highest order and one of the most acceptable features of this year's program. The management is to be congratulated upon securing her services for the entire week; she is a real drawing card.

Dr. Sears' second lecture was as entertaining as his first and his appearance here will be remembered by those who heard him. He left a most happy, laughing, optimistic impression and with it a few good lessons for everyday, practical living. Mr. Speed's work is even better than ever and many are enjoying his heart to heart talks on nature and his relations to man. The threatening weather interfered to an extent with the attendance last evening but those who heard Mr. Lowrey spent a very enjoyable evening and heard a very good and very humorous lecture. Mr. Lowrey delivered his popular lecture, "The Fountain of Youth," this afternoon, which was well received.

Tomorrow.

The program for tomorrow includes, in addition to the readings of Miss Smith at 4 and 7:30 o'clock and the nature study of Mr. Speed, lectures by Dr. J. Everist Cathell and Senator Robert Taylor. Dr. Cathell is a prominent divine of the Protestant Episcopal church, and in speaking of his work, President Nolan, of Lake Forest College, says: "It is a rare thing these days to find in a public speaker the combination of such qualities as power and sympathy, dignity and humor, learning and eloquence, high culture and the graces of the orator. Dr. J. Everist Cathell has these qualities in an unusual degree. He cannot fail to please his audience."

Senator Bob Taylor, we all know, some of us intimately as a personal friend, others as an orator of rare ability, the best story-teller we ever heard, and as a genius, portraying the beauties of nature and the humbler every-day character. His new lecture, "Castles in the Air," is his best. In speaking of it the Memphis Scimitar says:

"A flash of imagery, a burst of eloquence, and a wealth of glittering thoughts scattered like fireflies over a clover-field—that is Bob Taylor's lecture. A song borne in the wings of some dear old melody, a joke rippling from a fountain of humor, a subtle note of pathos awakening tender, sacred memories—that is Bob Taylor's lecture. Words painted in all the colors of fancy and put together with all the skill of faultless diction, the lights of innocent childhood, and the shadows of sombre age developed on the background of common experience—that is Bob Taylor's lecture. A radiant smile penetrating the gloom of dependency, a ray of hope arched in every man's horizon, a fragrant flower to brighten and to cheer—that is Bob Taylor's lecture."

It is expected the Chautauqua auditorium will be packed to its capacity to hear Senator Taylor. People in all walks of life know and have heard him and even the old "ante-bellum" darkeys are asking if they can come to hear old "Marse Bob" speak. His appearance here is noted.

worthy and he will no doubt be given an ovation.

Freedom and License.

"These anarchists," said H. K. Adams, the Western detective, "have about the same ideas of freedom and the privileges of a free country as my little boy Bill has."

"The United States is a free land, ain't it, pa?" said Bill the other day, and he looked up from a circus poster full of cuts of somersaulting automobiles, of balloon races and elephants revolving two by two in the "Merry Widow" waltz.

"Yes, Billy-boy, this is a free country," said I.

"Then," said Bill, "why don't they let a feller into the circus without paying?"—Washington Star.

We can only die once—much to the regret of the undertaker.

Reports From Thirty States Received

Chicago, July 21.—Reports from more than thirty states received here this week indicate that the long heralded business revival is making itself strongly felt in the middle and far west, with New England and the Atlantic states are recovering more slowly from the effects of the depression. Manufacturers and dealers of Pittsburgh report that the last two months have seen a marked increase in the volume of business and prospects for the future are very encouraging. In Chicago over 10,000 railroad men have gone back to work since the first of the year. Half of the men the packers laid off during the winter are back at their old places. There has been a marked falling off in the number of idle

WE ARE FORCED TO MOVE AT ONCE

Not later than August 1st, we must have every piece of furniture out of the store formerly occupied by D. F. Alexander, for other parties have leased the building. It's not a question of profit now; we must get rid of the goods and the prices which we have put on the stock are startling, even in comparison with the low prices which prevailed during our famous Dutch Auction Sale, which moved such a tremendous volume of furniture. If you want to see how much lower, read the few items below. These new prices go into effect tomorrow morning. Come and make your selections tomorrow for in ten days this fine stock will all be gone, and at prices which are almost the same as giving it away.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

County Court Clerk.
 The Sun is authorized to announce Hiram Smedley a candidate for re-election to the office of Clerk of the McCracken County Court subject to the action of the Democratic party.
For City Jailor.
 The Sun is authorized to announce
 W. T. (Billie) Read a candidate for City Jailor, subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 6.

Daily Thought.
 "Short views lengthen troubles;
 long views shorten them."

The Prohibition candidate for the presidency absolutely declines to accept a penny from the liquor dealers' association.

Unless their pictures do them gross injustice, Anna Gould and Prince Hell must look like Kid Mc-Coy and his valet.

Tom Watson might propose to the other candidates that they leave it all to the people and not use any campaign fund at all.

Some mistake in transmission of the report made the increase in the state school per capita fund 45 cents instead of "to $3.45." The increase is five cents.

We are beginning to cull much ripened editorial wisdom on the subject: "Whither Are We Drifting?" But for us, so long as we drift, we know we are afloat.

It is reported that straw votes taken on trains entering Lincoln, Neb., the last three weeks show an overwhelming majority for Bryan.
 Even such impartial observations as this are not always infallible. It is possible that a similar test made on trains entering Hot Springs, Va., would indicate an unmistakable trend toward Taft.

FRUITS OF DIPLOMACY.
 More indications of the beneficent effect of the foreign policy of Secretary of State Elihu Root and the visit of Secretary of War Taft are apparent in China's announcement that she will send a commission to formally thank this government for returning part of the Boxer indemnity, and that she will send 100 students each year to study in this country. In ten years 1,000 of China's most learned men, educated at the government's expense for government service, will be trained under American influence. While Europe is waiting for the partition of China this country is training Chinamen to develop their own country, and America will reap her reward in oriental trade and the possession of a mighty ally so close to Japan that the Island Empire will never dare lift its arm in hostility.

THE THIRD PARTY MOVEMENT.
 It is significant, the haste with which William R. Hearst made his announcement of hostility to the Bryan candidacy, in spite of the kindly tone in which the Commoner spoke of Hearst; and the vigor with which Tom Watson, attacked the Democratic party in Georgia. It is evident that these two astute politiclans expect this to be the last campaign in which Democracy will cut a national figure. And each—Hearst with his Independent party and Watson with his Populist party—hopes to make such a showing that his organization will be recognized as the true successor of Democracy. There will always be an opposition party.

 The prohibitionists, to be sure, are in the fight, but Watson and Hearst seem to be proceeding with the same object in view and it is probable that many local organizations will be formed and attached to either the independent or Populist party by men of observation, who desire to be first into the new party.

THE SHIPPERS VIEW.
 O. C. Barber, head of the match trust, is the first to speak about the increase in freight rates. His company uses annually 150,000 cars, and he will feel the increase. His words are in reply to a speech of W.
 C. Brown, of the New York Central.
 Mr. Barber's conclusion is that manipulating railroad stock does not promote prosperity and intimates that some such project is behind this attempt to increase earnings. He suggests that railroads take their medicine along with other industries, and instead of using surplus earnings to promote the interests of the speculators, who control them; part of the earnings be spent in double-tracking, abolishing grade crossings and adding to equipment; so that when the full dawn of prosperity is upon them, they will be able to handle the business and facilitate transactions between manufacturer and consumer at reduced rates, which is itself a stimulator of trade.

The opening quotations were in reply to a statement by Mr. Brown to the effect that "our prosperity came with the prosperity of the railroads. It declined when adversity struck the railroads. We do not believe that we can have a full measure of prosperity again until the railroads are prosperous."

"Let us analyze," suggests Mr.
 Barber, "what the prosperity of the railroads truly is to the people. It does not mean prosperity to the masses of the people when the railroads, by their manipulations, augment the values of the stocks of such companies, thereby creating great wealth for the manipulators at the general public."

Regarding the relation between prosperity and some railroad history
 Mr. Barber says:

"It was not prosperity, except to a few, that, by the manipulation of the Northern Pacific railroad, shares were boomed from $10 to $200 per share, at which price they were turned in to the Northern Securities company, which company's shares were in turn manipulated to a selling price of $340 per share, and then the general public was asked to pay such rates of freight as would pay dividends on these inflated values. This was not true prosperity, although seeming prosperity may have been quickened speculatively by such transactions."

"It was not true prosperity that caused increasing earnings of railroads each succeeding month over the corresponding month of the preceding year, continued over a period of several years, as anyone familiar with the situation must know was existent and culminative in 1907. It was not true prosperity to the people of the country that the said increased earnings were used to buy other railroads, as was done by the New York Central railroad when they purchased all the traction lines between New York and Buffalo that in no legiti-mate way could have an effect on the earnings and value of the New York Central lines, of which Mr. Brown is senior vice-president. This is not only applicable to the New York Central railroad, but to all other trunk lines, and it did not extend solely to traction lines, as instance the Union Pacific holdings of other corporate lines that they wished to control that they might augment their own wealth and rob the people by undue charges."

"Had these earnings been utilized to improve the physical condition of the roads from which they had made such vast returns, there would have been no shortage of transportation or of the rapidly increasing business of the country. Had the latter course been pursued, there would have been no cause for advance of freight rates or railroad charges, but the great increase the railroads would have received from their increased business would have enabled them, without further increase of capital or further watering of stocks, to have reduced their rates of freight and given better service to all concerned."

Mr. Barber insists that the railroads have violated the laws of political economy and of compensation, which are immutable.

He exclaims: "Let the increased values go toward the reduction from time to time of freight rates, as undoubtedly would be accomplished, thereby quickening all commerce and production and making life easier to mankind. Such a condition would make the selling value of these stocks in the market, guaranteed by the government, very much above par, and thereby do no violence to the holders thereof. This is not government ownership, simply government supervision, that no excesses might be committed on the public."

Metropolis Wins.

The Metropolis baseball team had good luck in the series with Sikestown, Mo., as the boys from Illinois won two out of the three games. The first game went by a score of 10 to 4, and the Metropolis boys won the second game by a score of 3 to 1. Sunday's game was lost by the close score of 2 to 1. George Block, a Paducah catcher for Metropolis, played a star game and in the first game got three two baggers and one triple out of four times at bat.

"My home was on the borderland, where men fought backward and forward across our fields." He paused for a moment as if the memory of his childhood was too bitter for recapitulation, then went bravely on: "In those years the sight of ghastly wounds and cruel death was before me sometimes daily, but never far removed. When peace came there was nothing left to my mother—but her ravaged farm, her bitter poverty, and her one boy. Oh, it was a nightmare, gentlemen, that never dimmed. It was a memory that never left me, as hard working, poorly clad and sometimes hungry, I grew to manhood.
 My mother went, as did thousands of other widows made by war, to an early grave, prematurely worn out by work and grief."

The floodgates were down at last.
 His repression was going, and he rose to his feet behind his desk trembling in every fiber, and with white, quivering lips. In the stillness of the room he stood thus for an instant; then his teeth suddenly came together with a click and his fist came down upon the table in one quick, hard blow of emphasis.

"Do you wonder," he said, "that I swore to give my life to peace? Is it strange that I who have suffered have taken unusual means to keep others from suffering as I and mine have?
 I have invited you here not as the president of a nation, but as man to men to help me put an end to—war!"

Every word of his final declaration was bitten off with sharp emphasis and accentuated by a fist which beat time. The king was suddenly conscious that he had leaned forward in his chair so far that nothing but the tense grip of his hands upon the arms had held him down. In all his years he had witnessed no such scene of emotion as this, nor heard a more earnest appeal.

The president, as if regretting his lack of control, settled wearily into his seat. He had said things in a way that in any other man would have been undignified; but he, inspired by the grandeur of his purpose, failed to realize that an angel with a flaming sword could scarcely have been more impressive. He had been addressing no ordinary audience. Before him was an august ruler, but more than that, a great man. And in the hush which followed, the sovereign rose from his seat, stepped across to the desk, and for one of the few times in his life gave untrammelled vent to his feelings as a man. He put his hand out across the polished mahogany top as the tall form of the president straightened up. Their hands met in one strong grip of understand-

"A Message for You, Sir, from the President and Secretary of the Navy."

ing, and they looked squarely into each other's eyes, reading, comprehending, and binding themselves together in a common purpose for humanity.

It was not the etiquette which demands that all men shall stand when a king is on his feet that brought the others from their chairs, erect, breathless and motionless. It was rather the impulsive respect and generation due to two great minds which before their very eyes were entering an unwritten compact for a high and noble cause.

Once more they took their seats;
 but now by the subtle alchemy of humanity they drew their chairs together. They were no longer rulers and subjects, Englishmen and Americans, but men inspired with magnanimity toward all their fellow beings. They were on a Godlike plane reasoning out momentous plans involving the nations of the world and all mankind. From their combined fund of knowledge they evolved methods which were to strengthen the weak and put in leash the strong.
 All reckoning of time was lost in this review of what had been accomplished and what was to be done.

The night paled, the sun crept up; the lights of the darkness were extinguished, and the day advanced without their heeding it. The last tentative clause was signed, and each knew the part which his country must play. Again they were all upon their feet, looking into one another's faces and abruptly conscious of wear-ness and relaxation. Too overcome to resume their homeward journey, the visitors accepted the hospitality of the White House for a few hours' rest, and staggered to their rooms.

Once, more than a hundred years before, an unwise king had caused a war between brothers which had sent them on diverse paths. Each had prospered but held aloof. And now after all this time a wiser king had proffered his hand, and the brothers were to be friends again in truth, and were to travel side by side unto the end.

qualities, and unlimited energy and enthusiasm; with great loyalty for his friends and employers, he will undoubtedly prove a formidable factor in the race. Mr. Read is connected with the firm of O. A. Tate, grocer, and has been for eighteen years, which is evidence of the appreciation his employer holds for his services. A life-long Democrat, he has assisted in many of the campaigns of his party, and his candidacy is worthy of recognition. The primary will be held August 6th and Mr. Read may find it impossible to call on all of his friends, hence he announces through The Sun that while he may fail to see every one during the short campaign, he solicits their support and influence. There is no doubt that in the event of his election to the office, Mr. Read will administer its duties in a conscientious, economical manner.

longed to a number of others and that if they are trying to infuse brotherly love and sympathy among their race they were doing good. His address was warmly received. John H. McConico, of Little Rock, Ark., responded. He delivered a well prepared address and at the same time gave statistics of the good being done by the order, which came as a surprise to the thousands that were anxious to work of the new order that had planted itself in the state of Kentucky. A number of other fine addresses were delivered by prominent, colored people of this city and was responded to by visiting delegates. After the program was given the delegates were entertained in the basement of the church.

Morning Session.

The entire morning was spent in adopting the report of the committee on credentials. Grand Master William Alexander appointed the following committee on laws and resolutions: L. N. Porter, M. J. Moore, Lena Williams, G. M. Donley, C. A. Isbell, Jennie Moore, Fannie Hill, J. Scott, Bettie Williams, S. P. McConnell and Mayme Kent. The official triennial report of John E. Bush, national grand scribe and founder of the order, made his report, which was printed in book form and distributed among the delegates. It was the best in the history of the order and it met the approval of every delegate present. The most important part of the report is as follows:

Grand Master's Report.
Grand Master William Alexander read his annual report today and also delivered an address. The head of the order being the mouthpiece of nearly 50,000 members of the colored race, it is expected that what he said on the race question will do much good in that part of the country where they are most plentiful. He said that the black man had always found that the white man is one of the best friends of the colored race, "and facts will bear me out that when our people needed advice, or appealed for aid for churches, they have always found that the white man would not turn a deaf ear towards them. In industrial pursuits, they have given the black man a chance. They have never been wanting in their approval of the self-respecting, thinking and law-abiding negro and have always been ready to encourage him in the requirements of a home, farm, or other real property, and frequently lending money for large payments on property. Many times they have extended their influence to guarantee fair play for such negroes in courts. It cannot be denied that injustice has been practiced on us in all sections of the south, and it is also true that the negro's ignorance and credulity have made him an easy prey for the unscrupulous but ignorant whites have suffered likewise, for he that knoweth little, no matter of what race, is a natural victim of the sharper."

The speaker touched lightly the question of politics, but urged whatever the requirements may be in any state, to meet them. He said get education, property and save your earnings."

He made a plea to the delegates to be indispensable factors in the uplift of the community in which they reside, and said the "negroes could be to the whites as separate as the fingers in social contact, but one as the hand in all facts that tend to sustain and improve the state."

He discussed the negroes' responsibilities.

Do You Think For Yourself?

Or, Do You Open Your Mouth Like a Young Bird and Gulp Down Whatever Food or Medicine May be Offered You?

If you are an intelligent, thinking woman, in need of relief from weakness, nervousness, pain and suffering, then it means much to you that there is one tried and true, honest medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION, sold by druggists for the cure of woman's ills.

The makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of weak, nervous, run-down, over-worked, debilitated, pain-racked women, knowing this medicine to be made up of ingredients, every one of which has the strongest possible indorsement of the leading and standard authorities of the several schools of medical practice, are not afraid to print, as they do, the list of ingredients, of which it is composed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper.

The formula of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will bear the most critical examination of medical experts, for it contains no alcohol, no injurious to delicate women even in small quantities when long continued. Neither does it contain any narcotics, or other harmful, or habit-forming drugs and no agent enters into it that is not highly recommended by the most advanced and leading medical teachers and authorities of their several schools of practice. These authorities recommend the ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of exactly the same ailments for which this world-famed medicine is advised by its manufacturers.

No other medicine for woman's ills has any such professional endorsement as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has received, in the unqualified recommendation of each of the several ingredients by leading medical men of all the schools of practice. Is such an endorsement not worthy of your consideration? It certainly is entitled to far more weight than any number of non-professional, or lay testimonials.

A booklet of ingredients, with numerous authoritative professional endorsements by the leading medical authorities of this country, will be mailed free to any one sending name and address with request for same. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," run-down, debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, man and it is with reluctance that his company gives him up. His successor as manager of the telephone company has not been chosen.

S.S.S. CURES OLD SORES

No old sore can heal until the cause which produces it has been removed. External applications of salves, washes, lotions, etc., may reduce the inflammation and assist in keeping the place clean, but cannot cure the trouble because they do not reach its source. Old sores exist because the blood is infected with impurities and poisons which are constantly being discharged into the place. The nerves, tissues and fibres of the flesh are kept in a state of irritation and disease by being daily fed with the germ-laden matter through the circulation, making it impossible for the sore to heal. S. S. S. cures chronic sores by its purifying action on the blood. It goes down into the circulation, and removes the poison-producing germs, impurities and morbid matters which are responsible for the failure of the place to heal. S. S. S. makes the blood pure, fresh and healthy; then as new, rich blood is carried to the spot the healing process begins, all discharge ceases, the inflammation leaves, new tissue begins to form, the place fills in with firm, healthy flesh, and soon the sore is permanently cured. S. S. S. is purely vegetable, the safest and best blood purifier for young or old. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

MERCHANT LEADER SAYS GOOD TIMES

Are Already Knocking at the Doors For Resumption.

Business World on Sounder Basis Than for Long Time and Trade is Improving.

IS GREAT DRY GOODS DEALER

New York, July 21.—The World has an extended interview on commercial conditions with Mr. John Claflin, of this city, head of the company which operates three stores in Louisville. The article in question is as follows:

Among the foremost merchants in the United States is John Claflin, of New York, a man of fifty-eight light, gently carried years, brown bearded, gentle mannered, soft spoken and clear thinking. As head of the giant wholesale dry goods company that bears the Claflin name and the direct force of many mammoth department stores in leading cities, he is in close and constant touch with the commercial pulse of the country.

This is what he said to a representative of the World, who asked: "What is the condition of business today and what are the prospects?"

"The business world is on a sounder basis than for some time past, trade conditions are improving and, barring accident, there may be expected a steady increase. We believe prices touched bottom in June, and we look for improvement in values during the autumn."

Mr. Claflin was asked, on what conditions his views were founded.

"To answer clearly that question it is necessary to go back a little," he replied. "The commercial business of 1907 was unprecedented in all lines—manufacturing, wholesale and retail—until the panic that followed the failure of the Knickerbocker Trust company in October.

Conditions in Retail Trade.

"Let us consider first the retail trade, for that is the branch in closest touch with the people and first feels varying conditions. Merchants had laid in enormous stocks of goods for their holiday season. When the crash came their sales were at once sharply curtailed. When they took inventory on the first of last January they found themselves possessed of the largest supply of stock on hand that they had ever known. Naturally they stopped buying and even canceled orders already given. This had its effect on the wholesaler and through him the manufacturer, who was forced to curtail the production.

Few Bad Spots.

"But since the first of January the retailer has had good business. There have been bad spots, such as New York, Pittsburgh, Birmingham, Cincinnati and San Francisco, but taking the average of the entire country we find that during the last six months the retail business has been only 10 per cent less than it was for the corresponding period last year and just about the same as for the spring of 1906. The merchant has been obliged to cut prices some and his profits have decreased, but he has disposed of his accumulated stock and has not contracted any new obligations.

Whereas, on January 1 the over-average merchant found himself stocked heavier than ever before, the last of July disclosed on his shelves the smallest stock he ever carried, with his credit good and a valuable lesson learned in economic and conservative management.

"In 1907 he had gained 10 per cent over 1906. This year he has fallen back to the 1906 record, so his loss has been one year's advance.

Effect on the Manufacturer.

"With the manufacturer the figures are different. During the last half year his production has been only 65 per cent of what it was for the corresponding period last year. The retailer lost only 10 per cent of his sales record, but the manufacturer's sales have gone down 35 per cent. In these very figures, however, are signs of improved conditions for the future.

"There is a difference of 25 per cent between the consumption and the production. More goods have been sold than were manufactured during the past six months. The surplus stock on hand has been greatly reduced. The merchant soon will have to buy for the autumn season. The mills are beginning to increase their activity in anticipation of the demand, and in his way the revival of prosperity will start."

"One most important point in this connection I have been endeavoring to urge," continued Mr. Claflin. "That is to go slowly and conservatively in the revival. Let us not rush hastily to the extreme of the belief that business is going to resume full steam ahead all at once."

"It has been too much the custom for merchants to overstock. Often, thinking to take advantage of an expected rise in prices, they lay in a supply far beyond current needs in order to make an increased percentage."

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

No other medicine for Woman's ills in the world has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

No other medicine has such a record of success for woman's diseases, or such hosts of grateful friends as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been the standard remedy for feminine ills, Inflammation, Ulceration, and consequent Spinal Weakness.

It has relieved more cases of Backache and Local Weakness than any other remedy. It dissolves and expels tumors in an early stage of development.

Irregularities and periodic pains, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility, quickly yield to it; also deranged organs, causing pain, dragging sensations and backache. Under all circumstances it acts in harmony with the female system.

It removes that wearing feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, dizziness, faintness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy or the "blues." These are indications of Feminine disorders, which this medicine overcomes as well as slight derangement of the Kidneys of either sex.

Women who are sick and want to get well should refuse to accept any substitute for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

age of profit. But almost invariably this extra profit is more than wiped out by the unsold stock which has to be sacrificed.

How to Safeguard Prosperity.

"If we can be satisfied to go along conservatively, building up solidly, buying according to current needs, we shall not be in danger of a reaction, and good business will follow in the autumn."

The business man who counseled this warning presented an example of conservatism in himself and his surroundings. His office in the vast establishment at Worth and Church streets is a modest room. Its only attribute of luxury is a large oil painting of a hunting scene, hanging on one wall. There is no mahogany furniture, no marble floor covered with costly rugs, no deep-seated, leather-covered chairs.

Near an iron shuttered window stands an old, battered desk, of pattern so out of date that it might have been used by the founder of the house half a century ago. It does duty for the head of the firm today. Simplicity and plainness mark the entire room. But in the house of Claflin, conservatism does not mean slowness, for energy is in the atmosphere, but it does mean prudence and common sense.

In the warehouses and storerooms outside the president's office cases of new goods from the factories were coming in. The tables and benches were rising higher with their burden of fabrics. They were practical examples of the coming revival of prosperity.

In dry goods, as in many other lines of trade, July is the duller month of the year. Merchants do not begin to buy much stock before the end of August, and the retail season is quiet until the latter part of September. Therefore, so far as actual sales are concerned, business activity will not make much showing in dollars and cents for another two months.

A Quaint Compliment.

On Mark Twain's 72d birthday a Hartford clergyman said of him:

"No wonder he finds happiness in old age. All the aged would be happy if they were as sympathetic and kind as he. He is constantly going out of his way to please others, and the result is that he is continually pleasing himself."

"Listen, for instance, to the quaint compliment he paid me the last time he came to hear me preach. He waited for me at the church door at the end of the service and, shaking me by the hand, said gravely:

"I mean no offense, but I feel obliged to tell you that the preaching this morning has been of a kind that I can spare. I go to church, sir, to pursue my own train of thought. But today I couldn't do it. You interfered with me. You forced me to attend to you, and lost me a full half hour. I beg that this may not occur again."

SPECIAL ELECTION

MAY BE HELD FOR VOTING ON CITY SCHOOL BONDS.

Board Decides But Little Formality Will Attend Confering Diplomas in January.

Graduates of the High school in January will be presented their diplomas, but the school board last night decided that it could not bear the expense of a mid-year commencement. The January graduates may wait until June and take part in the regular commencement exercises if they so desire, but the diplomas will be delivered when they complete their courses.

Information was received from State Superintendent Crabbe, of Frankfort that a special election might be held for voting on a school bond issue and the finance committee and president of the board were directed to make a report at the next meeting in August, on the desirability of holding an election in September. The bond issue will be for $60,000.

Coal dealers had in bids last night for the school supply during next year, but the board did not accept and will hold the bids over until the next meeting. Fred Hager, superintendent of buildings, was instructed to put a new smokestack on the Jefferson building.

Trustees Bondurant, Boyd Clements, Farley, Kelley, Morris and Watson were present in last night's special meeting; as was Superintendent Carnagey.

Mrs. John J. Dorian and Prof. A. M. Ragsdale were elected examiners for the teachers.

RESCUE MISSION

CONTINUES ITS GOOD WORK AT NEW HOME, 431 TRIMBLE.

Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Chiles Report on Work and Situation Confronting Them.

Union Rescue Mission is flourishing at 431 Trimble street under the direction of the Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Chiles, where general relief measures are employed for the unfortunate. Funerals have been conducted, nightly gospel services held, clothing and provisions have been distributed, homes have been secured for orphan children, homeless men and women have been cared for and secured employment. They have at present four children to place in good homes. Contributions from C. L. Brunson, Schmans Bros. and R. E. Rudolph and from numerous individuals have been received. Mrs. Chiles will give an ice cream supper July 24 for the benefit of the mission and desires public patronage. They moved into the new home April 1.

BETTER THAN GOLD

Food That Rebuilds Body and Brain. "I owe a debt of gratitude to Grape-Nuts," writes a W. Va. young lady, "and I am glad of this opportunity to pay a little interest on it, although the debt itself I can never hope to remove."

"A few years ago I broke down from over-work and improper food. I was then in a peripatetic school and my fondest wish was to enter college the following year."

"But about the middle of the term my health failed, and my brain refused to grapple with the subjects presented to it. Finally, my eyesight giving way, I was taken from the school, and sent to my grandmother's in the country with orders not to open a book while I was there."

"The dear old lady tried every way to console and nurse me back to health, but it looked like failure until the day she brought back from town a box, which, had its contents been pure gold, would have been of less value to me than the 'little golden-brown granules' which it actually contained."

"I did not care about being experimented on at first, but that was before I had tasted Grape-Nuts with Grandma's rich Jersey cream."

"Oh, it was too good to stop eating. And I never have stopped, for I still have Grape-Nuts for breakfast. In the course of a few weeks I was back at school again, my health so entirely restored that I was almost a new girl."

"I am now in my junior year at college, president of my class and expect to take an A. M. degree next year. My good health has continued and my eyes, having been strengthened by the general build-up of my whole body, enable me to study all I wish. 'There's a Reason.'"

"Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest."

HEAT MAKES CHILDREN ILL

Summer is a very trying period for young children, and many a child who is usually healthy suffers during the heated term. There are many dangers for the child in summer. These lie in milk, food, water, fruit, etc. The greatest peril is from some form of stomach or bowel trouble. It is usually the starting point of graver troubles. The child becomes constipated, or gets indigestion. Perspiration is interfered with, worms develop, the skin becomes scaly and itchy, and the poor child is in much misery. Do not let it go, and trust to luck or fate for a cure. Use a remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is intended to cure that very condition and is especially adapted to children's ills because of its mildness and purity. If the child has any of these symptoms, or has not had a passage in 24 hours, it needs Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at once. Give it in the small dose prescribed for children and watch the wonderful effect. It will act promptly but gently, and as it is pleasant to take you will not have to force it. A bottle can be obtained of any druggist at 50 cents or $1.00, and you should obtain a bottle today so as to have it on hand for an emergency. Many a mother has saved a child in this hot weather by the timely use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Thousands of mothers are getting to know it better and better and keep it constantly in the house as the first family remedy, appreciative of the fact that it contains absolutely no narcotics or harmful drugs. If you have never tried it you can obtain a SAMPLE BOTTLE FREE OF CHARGE by addressing the PEPSIN SYRUP CO., Monticello, Ill.

BIG RALLY DAY

FARMERS WILL GATHER IN PADUCAH SATURDAY.

Institute and Tobacco Association Meeting Scheduled for Same Time.

Saturday will be a big day for McCracken county farmers, who will gather at Paducah to attend the two important meetings arranged for that day. The State Farmers' Institute is to convene at Wallace park and speakers and educators of prominence will be here to address the meeting. The Planters' Protective association also has a rally scheduled for that day and arrangements will be made, so that the meetings will not conflict, and those who come to town may attend both meetings. The tobacco growers will have Capt. W. J. Stone, of Lyon county, and other prominent speakers here. Capt. Stone has nine other speaking dates in the county this week and it is intended for the meeting here Saturday to be a rally of association forces and a large crowd is expected. The association will not receive pledges of the present crop of tobacco after August 1, hence the great activity of leaders to give each farmer a chance to pledge his crop.

TOBACCO NEWS

Sales Fall Off.

Mayfield, Ky., July 21.—Sales of the Planters' Protective association during the past two weeks have shown a decidedly falling off at every market place in the entire district covered by the association, with its salesmen, says the Messenger. This, while gradual, has to a certain extent been sufficiently abrupt to excite the very strong suspicion that it is the result of some kind of an understanding between the buyers representing the foreign governments and the American Tobacco company and subsidiary concerns in this country.

The reason for this falling off is problematical. Buyers who have been most active have suddenly shown a surprising lack of interest in the market, and they are willing to hazard no guess regarding the reason for this turn of affairs. The association has already disposed of almost one-half of its holdings. That it will sell the remainder of the crop of 1907 there is little doubt, although a period of dullness may be looked for during the next few weeks. Members of the association show no signs of dissatisfaction, however, and if the trust is going to play a bluff game it will realize in the end that the amusement is one in which more than one can indulge.

No member, of course, expects the organization to dispose of the crop of 1907 in record-breaking time. The crop of last year is one to which expectations might be reasonably taken. No manufacturer the world over is not surprised that it will go on a sale than any preceding since the organization was formed.

THE PASSION PLAY

Or, Life of Christ

ALL WEEK, COMMENCING MONDAY, JULY 20

A wonderful and magnificent production of a touching drama on the life of Christ. A cast including Christ, his disciples, Pilate, King Herod and all ancient characters implicated, with 500 Roman soldiers and civilians.

Illustrating the life of our Savior and from birth to the ascension, as played at the last presentation in Ober Ammergau, Bavaria, reproduced by means of soul-stirring moving pictures: This play is now produced but once in ten years, and is now the sole survivor of those mystic plays or religious dramas, which were in full vogue in the middle ages in Germany, France, Italy, Spain and England.

Only One Performance Each Night
